Electric Lights Installed—Seniors Entertain at Miss Hoag's—Athletics Arranged for Old Settlers' Day

The high school baseball team defeated the Normal nine last Tuesday in a practice game. Score 9-3. Game was called on the local diamond.

On last Saturday evening, Miss Phoebe Mitchell invited a few friends from the high school to her home in the Willows to bid fond farewells to Miss Abbie Gilbert.

The work on the electric lights in the high school building is completed. This is a big improvement and the scholars are eagerly awaiting the time when they can put them to use.

Miss Mary Rodeck entertained a few high school friends at her home in honor of Miss Abbie Gilbert, who is soon to leave her friends in Campbell. The affair took place on Friday evening, the tenth. Those present voted Miss Mary a royal entertainer and left with goodbyes to Miss Gilbert.

On Thursday evening, the ninth, the Seniors held a class party at the home of Miss Ruth Hoag. The most important feature of the evening was a good "feed," which, needless to say, everyone enjoyed. A number of young men outside of the class were invited to make up the deficiency of that sex in the class.

For the delectation of the general public, Mr. Snow has arranged a fine athletic program for "Old Settlers' Day." The baseball team will play the Campbell town team; the girls' basket ball team will go up against the high school team from Los Gatos, and the boys' basket ball team will contest the honors with the town basket ball team. No admission will be charged.

Miss Mary Rodeck Entertains in Honor of Miss Abbie Gilbert

The home of Miss Mary Rodeck was the scene of a jolly Valentines' party last Friday evening. The affair was in honor of Miss Abbie Gilbert who left Tuesday for Palo Alto where she will enter the Peninsula Hospital to train for a nurse. The rooms were prettily decorated with strings of white and red hearts. The evening was spent in games appropriate to the season. Miss Maud Hawley was one of the guests and she gave two of her most popular recitations, "At the Photographers", and "At a Large City Depot."

The matching of partners for supper was original. The boys were given numbered hearts on which were keys, while the girl's hearts numbered like the boys had key holes on them. The boys found the locks into which their keys would fit and the guests went to the dining room below. The table was beautifully decorated with hearts. The centerpiece was a heart made of violets and smilax.

There were about twenty who sat down to the table and enjoyed a very dainty banquet. The guests left about twelve o'clock bidding Abbie good bye and wishing her success in her new work.

INDIANS MURDER STOCKMEN AND LEAVE A COLD TRAIL

Bodies of the Slain Men Lay in Canyon Three Weeks Before Discovery.

Reno, Nev.—An Indian massacre in which four wealthy stockmen were victims have started sheriffs posses to scouring the country for the assassins. The victims, whose bodies were found in Little Rock Canyon, near Queen River, Cal., had been missing since January 19th, when they went out to look for stock in a storm-swept region. They were: Harry Cambron, John Laxgaue, Bindano and Perramuspe. When the continued absence of the four men made it certain that evil had befallen them, searching parties went out from Constantia, Cal., and in the remote canyon they came upon the bodies. All the blankets and provisions of the murdered men had been taken, and from the character of their wounds, there was little doubt that Indians had done the killing.

This supposition was made certainty when ranchers in the vicinity were questioned. They declared that a band of nine hostile Indians had recently been in the vicinity, but had departed leaving warnings that they were not to be followed on pain of death. Immediately the murders were discovered a posse was formed and at once took the trail of the hostiles.

San Jose.—Fourteen-year-old James Gillett, a son of J. H. Gillett, a well-known contracting painter residing at Bellevue and Pomona avenues, saved his mother from being killed by throwing himself on the prostrate form of the woman as his father was about to shoot her. Seeing that he had been frustrated in the attempt to take the life of his wife, Gillett left the house and engaged in a battle with neighbors, firing with three shots, none of which took effect. He then endeavored to make his escape, but was captured by Deputy Sheriffs Rice and Boffington about a mile from his home.

The washouts along the line of the Ocean Shore railroad deprived the residents of those sections of all mail facilities.

Importance of New Method of Increasing Production

San Francisco.—Realizing the importance of new methods of grain growing, the California Development Board submitted a bill which is now before the California Legislature calling for the establishment of four or more demonstration farm to be conducted in regions of the State which are not likely to be brought under irrigation in the near future. No more than one of these farms is to be located in one county. The bill asks for an appropriation of $15,000 for the equipment and maintenance of these farms for the first year and $7500 for the second year.

The State has been very liberal in making appropriations for increasing and protecting her natural resources, and in aiding the fruit grower and the farmer upon irrigated land to secure the highest returns from his labor and for the protection of his industry.

Very little has ever been asked by the farmer on unirrigated land. He has received very little recognition at the hands of the Legislature for the highest development of his crop production. He should receive at least as much consideration as the farmer upon irrigated land or the fruit grower. The real fact of the case is he should probably receive more consideration, because it is a far more difficult matter for him to make a success than for the man who is fortunate enough to possess an irrigated farm. Further, there is a very much larger dry land area capable of being farmed than there is of the irrigated area, and the dry land farm conditions are much more difficult of handling than irrigated conditions.

The following facts have been submitted by Professor G. W. Shaw, college of agriculture, University of California arguments in favor of assisting the dry land farmer:

(1) California has approximately one million acres in fruit For the benefit of the fruit grower and the protection of his busness the State is expending, through the Horticultural Commissioner's office and special appropriations handled through the experiment stations, approximately $70,000 per annum. The dry land farmer and grain grower has a much more difficult problem to enable him to secure profitable returns than has the fruit grower, and the area represented is more than twice as large. He should certainly be entitled to some consideration at the hand of the Legislature.

(2) For the protection of the dairyman, who farms largely upon irrigated land, thus making his operations much more certain of success than those of the dry land farmer, there is an appropriation of $30,700 per annum. There would seem to be no logical reason why the man who is farming under unirrigated conditions should not be entitled to as much consideration as the general farmer under irrigated conditions.

(3) For the propagation of fish, largely in the interests of the sportsman, there is an appropriation of $20,000 per annum. Are not the conservation of soil fertility and the increase of productiveness of dry land farms of as much importance as the protection of the sportsman's interest?

(4) The Imperial Valley farms, representing actually a small number of farmers, and working exclusively under irrigated conditions, had for the last two years an appropriation of $6000. Should not the increase of production on more than two million acres of dry land farms be as much entitled to development?

The grain crops alone in the eighties rose as high as fifty million dollars. Through irrational and unscientific handling of the soil this production has probably decreased under the old style methods of dry farming by nearly a half. Recently developed methods of dry land farming have shown that it is not only entirely possible to double the present output of grain per acre by the adoption of a rational system of culture, but also that a very large area formerly considered too dry for farming operations can be profitably brought under cultivation.

These facts have been recognized by other States in the semi-arid West, among which may be particularly mentioned Utah, Colorado, Montano and Oregon. These States are demonstrating the possibilities of greater production upon their semi-arid lands through the medium of dry land demonstration farms conducted by the experiment stations of the respective States, where the farmers can make a personal study of more scientific methods of crop production under conditions of a limited rainfall.

The railroads, particularly the Great Northern railroad, have realized the great importance of demonstrating to the farmers along their line the great importance of conservation of moisture. To this end it has maintained for several years a chain of some thirty demonstration farms where dry farming methods are put into practice. The past season these demonstration farms, under scientific methods of culture, gave an average production of more than thirty bushels of wheat to the acre. The general farmer in the same sections who followed the time honored method of farming made an absolute failure on account of drought. It was one of the best demonstrations that could be made to the farmers of that section of the value of modern scientific culture fo the consevation of moistue.

The average production of wheat in California is at present only about thirteen bushels per acre. Through work done by the California Experiment Station it is quite evident that this production can be nearly, if not quite, doubled by the adoption of the above mentioned methods. It is proposed to put these methods into operation in the midst of the large dry farming areas where the results can be made an object lesson to the farmers of those regions.

It is further proposed on these demonstration farms to develop seeds and plants capable of standing more severe drought conditions than those which we now have.

The passage of this bill will only be doing for the dry land farmer what it has been the established policy of the State to do for the fruit grower and the farmer upon irrgated land.—California Development Board.

Some of the New Laws Under Discussion at Capitol

Washington.—The few Republicans in the House who declined to be bound by the party caucus aided the Democrats to win the fight for increased representation in the lower branch of Congress under the census of 1910. The action of the House must be ratified by the Senate. The House leaders believe the Senate will follow the wishes of the lower branch. Under the new reapportionment plan. No State loses a member. The following States gain the number indicated:

Alabama 1, California 3, Colorado 1, Florida 1, Georgia 1, Idaho 1, Illinois 2, Louisaina 1, Massachusetts 2, Michigan 1, Minnesota 1, Montana 1, New Jersey 2, New York 6, North Dakota 1, Pennsylvania 4, Rhode Island 1, South Dakota 1, Texas 2, Utah 1, Washington 2, West Virginia 1.

After a ten years' struggle the House passed a bill providing for the purchase and continuation of embassies, legations and consular buildings abroad.

The postal savings' bank has the official "O. K." of the Postmaster General. "If I had the necessary appropriation I would establish the postal savings bank in 500 additional cities tomorrow," said Postmaster General Hitchcock after considering reports of the first month's operation of the new system. Officials here generally believe that the banks have passed the experimental stage. According to the reports just in the total deposits for January in the 48 existing banks located in small towns were approximately $60,000, an average of about $1200 daily.

Magazine publishers will have to pay four cents a pound on the advertising sections of periodicals carried as second-class mail if an amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill, adopted by the Senate Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads, is accepted by both branches of Congress. The increase will apply only to the large publications, as an exemption is provided for periodicals of less than 4000 pounds weight per issue.

SENATE PASSES FAIR BILL GREAT VICTORY COMPLETED

Southerners Aid to Clear Obstructions to Bring Matter Before House.

Washington.—The joint resolution naming San Francisco as the place for holding the Exposition in 1915 in celebration of the opening of the Panama canal passed in the Senate Saturday, when Senator Perkins brought the resolution before the legislators shortly before 10 o'clock, and it passed without a vote of opposition. There is now no further formality to be proceeded with, which secures the greatest of world's expositions for the Golden Gate City.

Senator Swanson of Virginia explained that he intended to offer an amendment providing for a naval demonstration at Norfolk and Washington in connection with the Completion of the canal, but owing to the fact that the incorporation of the provision would have the effect of sending the bill back to the House, thereby causing delay, he would refrain. He added that Senator Perkins, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, had consented to allow his amendment to go into the naval appropriation bill.

When the exposition bill had passed Perkins thanked his "friends from Louisiana and Virginia for their courtesy in connection with the measure."

Mitchell, secretary of the Fresno, Hanford and Summit Lake Railroad Company, have returnde from New York bringing with them signed contracts from the Hudson Counties Construction Company and Guaranty Trust Company of New York, by which $1,250,000 has been secured to build an interurban railroad from Fresno to Kingsburg with a branch to Sanger. The local company has been more than two years promoting this road. It is to be completed within a year from the time of the signing of the contract.

Japan to Begin Exhibit.

Washington.—James McNab called on his friend, Baron Uchida, the Japanese Minister. "I have been watching the exposition contest with intense interest," said the diplomat, "and I heartily congratulate San Francisco. The exposition will afford a great opportunity for developing trade relations between the Orient and the United States. Japan is as heavily interested as any country, and I shall urge on my Government to begin the preparation at once of plans to participate in the fair."

The Consul estimates the total population of China at 406,000,000, and he says that there is one primary school for every 11,857 people.

U. S. Wealth Per Capita.

I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

What She Missed.

"Is there anything worse," sighed the pretty girl, "than to be hungry and remember all the good things to eat you might have had but left on some other occasion? The other day I was at the swellest reception I ever attended, and the things to eat were simply heavenly. I will confess I did justice to everything that was handed me, but somehow I didn't get any of the rolled sandwiches with watercress in the middle, or any of the delicious marrons glace. And, oh, the times since then that I have wanted one of those appetizing sandwiches, and that my mouth has watered for those marrons! And today for lunch I had to eat corned beef hash."

SUPERSTITIONS OF SNEEZING

It Was a Thing of Ill-Omen Until the Time of Jacob, Say the Jewish Rabbis.

Many superstitions have gathered around the practise of sneezing.

The Jewish rabbis say that in the first ages of the world sneezing was considered a thing of ill omen, and even a presage of death, and that this terrible state of things lasted until the coming of Jacob, when that astute patriarch, anxious lest he should himself perish from such an insignificant cause, besought the Almighty to endow sneezing in future with more beneficent attributes.

Among the ancients sneezing was considered lucky or unlucky according to the circumstance of time and place.

For instance, it was considered lucky to sneeze between noon and midnight; also when the moon was in the signs of Taurus, Leo, Libra, Capricorn and Pisces.

But if, on the other hand, you sneezed during any of the hours between midnight and the following noon, or while the moon happened to be in the signs of Virgo, Aquarius, Cancer or Scorpi—above all, unhappily, you were just getting out of bed or rising from the table—then you were to consider yourself in a parlous state, indeed.

The Greeks and Romans entertained the superstition that to hear anyone on their right hand sneeze was of good presage to all concerned, and the Greeks used to say of a beautiful woman that Cupid and his loves had sneezed at her birth.

Wearing of the Hood.

In England the hood was not finally given up until the early part of fifteenth century. The "great velvet hat furred" worn by the mayor of London, John Welles, in 1432, is cited as a singularity by Stow, who states that previously "the coverture of men's heads was hoods, for neither cap or hat is spoken of." In point of fact there are a few earlier instances of hats being worn by nobles and even the middle classes.

FAST FREIGHT SERVICE.

Th cargo of California freight which left San Francisco, January 7, in the freighter Isthmian of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, arrived at New York, January 28. The cargo was handled on the Pacific and the Atlantic via the Tehuantepec Railroad in the remarkable time of 21 days. The rapid service afforded by the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company is commanding the attention of California shippers. District Freight Agent Hooper recently visited Sacramento and Stockton where he inaugurated terminal water rates with the upriver towns. He reports that the shippers of Sacramento and Stockton are very enthusiastic over the inducements made to them, and predicts that the movements of New York freights to the inland towns will be greatly increased.

AUTO GOSSIP.

A shipment of 30-horsepower Autocar roadsters are reported for San Francisco from the factory. These cars are due to arrive the early part of next week.

"The importance of the place achieved by the commercial vehicle in the East is well illustrated" says Walter Morris, local Autocar distributor, "by the consideration given it at the New York Show. Advices received from New York declare that a large share of the interest in the Madison Square Gardens exhibition centers in the display of trucks to which the last two weeks of the show are to be solely devoted.

"The coming national commercial vehicle show which is to be held next month in Chicago is also demanding a great deal of advance interest. At that Show experts are to be in attendance who will help solve the problems involved in each individual selection of a truck."

E. C. Collins of the Cartercar Auto Co. reports that a shipment of 1911 Cartercars has just been unloaded and the machines are now being equipped for immediate delivering.

Among the new model commercial vehicles which are demanding attention at the Eastern Automobile Show are the new Cartercar trucks with 1500 pounds rating. These cars have the same friction drive transmission as the Cartercar pleasure cars and they have resulted from a most extensive study of commercial vehicle requisites.

The Pioneer Automobile Company's new building will be the next notable addition to San Francisco's Automobile Row. This three story structure is now rapidly nearing its last stages of construction and will be ready for occupancy by the Pioneer Automobile Co., near the middle of next month. The sales manager of one of the Eastern factories visited the new building a few days ago and said: "This building will make the handsomest and best arranged automobile garage that I have seen west of New York. What impresses me most favorably is the large amount of glass used in the arrangement for offices partitions, show windows, etc. Surely the Chalmers, Lozier and Hudson people should be proud of the new home of their San Francisco representatives."

Since the report lately went abroad that the four factories which make up the United States Rubber Co. would operate under one sales management, there has been considerable speculation in tire circles as to just what the outcome would be. Some expect that in the near future the four different brands of tires will be sold by a single concern. The Morgan & Wright distributors, Weinstock-Nichols Co. do not think that such will be the case.

In speaking of the matter Robert Weinstock manager of the Weinstock-Nichols Co. said, "We do not believe that there is any danger of our losing the Morgan & Wright agency nor do we look for anything but good from the new arrangement. As I understand it, the only change in the present situation will be that the four factories will be represented on this coast by a single manager who will dictate the general policy of all the sales agencies and branches. That will mean that the new man will have more authority than the Morgan & Wright coast representative has had in the past, which will be a great advantage. Many matters which we now have to refer to Detroit will be settled out here and much time will be saved."

In speaking of the Morgan & Wright line Weinstock went on to say: "We would certainly consider it a great loss if Morgan & Wright made any new selling arrangements. This agency is one of the most satisfactory of all our lines. The merit of Morgan & Wright tires is so great and so widely recognized that we are assured a steadily increasing business.

"Morgan & Wright Nobby Treads which are the invention of A. D. Nichols, of the firm form a most important part of the Morgan & Wright line. At this season of the year particularly the Nobbys are in great demand. The thing that is the most gratifying to Mr. Nichols and myself is that in nearly every instance where Nobbys have been used once, the users come back for them again and again. Once having driven Nobby Treads over wet and slippery pavements, it is the rare exception where a motorist is afterwards content to use any other tire."

"In order to get the maximum service from your tires" says C. E. Mathewson, Pacific Coast manager of the Diamond Rubber Company, "it is necessary that you keep them away from oil. Oil soon softens the rubber. It can't help doing so. Under this condition the tire can't possibly last as long as otherwise. Never let the oil escaping from the car in the garage run and stand about the tires. Nor let your car stand in oil puddles on the street. A little more care of the axles in the matters of washers at the ends or in using a heavier grade of oil, will save tire money."

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM---it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

THE PENNY IN TRADE CIRCLES.

"Got any pennies?" inquired a sad-eyed man of philosophic bent, addressing the paying teller of one of San Francisco's leading banking establishments.

"Pennies!" exclaimed the paying teller, "this is not the cold, calculative East; this is the warm-hearted, generous West. Pennies! That spells puritanic commercialism. You will find pennies, and plenty of them perhaps, after you fly over the Sierras, across the Rockies and swim the Missouri, but not till then. We have yet to learn, and yet to practice in our commercial life on the Coast, the subtle process of splitting hairs."

"That is perhaps true up to the present. But you know they are talking of reducing freight rates."

"Yes; I know they are talking about tons and carload rates and ton-miles, but that is the same old magnifying glass used by the office hunter and profit hunter to deceive the consumer. You may cut your car load rate or ton rate in two and the consumer will derive no benefit. What is it that the consumer buys by the car load or ton? Is it sugar, flour, butter, fruit groceries, eggs, clothing, shoes?"

"No," said the sad-eyed man reflectively, "that is where I thought the penny would come in. I know that the dealers will profit by cuts in carload and less-than-carload rates, but I am not interested in that, for if only the dealers are to profit by it I'd rather see it go to the railroad for better service, new lines, more wages and development of the resources of the State, for that would benefit everybody. But I have thought that maybe the consumer might get some of it, too."

"How? The San Francisco consumer, we will say, buys a dozen of eggs. The rate on eggs from Petaluma is about one-tenth of one cent a dozen. How will a cut in rates help him. The freight charge on a suit of clothes from the Atlantic seaboard to San Francisco is about 19 cents, on a hat one and one-half cents, on an overcoat 15 cents and on a pair of shoes about 5½ cents. If these rates were cut in two, how much do you suppose would be left for the consumer after the various jobbers, commission brokers and dealers got theirs. The trouble with you, my friend, is that, like many others, you do not look into these things from the proper angle. Viewing from the dealer's standpoint in tons and carloads is one thing; viewing it from that of the consumer in pounds and single articles is quite another. It does not necessarily follow—indeed it is seldom true—that rate reductions that are beneficial to the dealer are also beneficial to the consumer. The consumer's welfare is always present and uppermost in the reasons put forth for reducing rates, but it is also always absent and lost sight of when it comes to dividing the benefits. I'll admit, my friend, if any part of the benefit from rate reductions was to go to the consumer, the demand for pennies would be active, for his share would rarely get above that denomination, but the consumer is merely a shield or curtain behind which designing minds hide themselves while plotting against the object of attack. The real motive behind this attack on rates is not to benefit the consumer. The consumer's welfare is a myth. The fellows who are directing the fight have no more concern in the welfare of the consumer than in the fate of the man in the moon. Get any one of them to figure out for you how much the consumer will benefit by it—how much cheaper he will be able to buy. See then if wampum, or beads, or buttons, wont be just as likely to be essential in retail business circles as pennies. Rate reduction, my friend, sustains no relation to price reduction and those who expect to buy goods cheaper because of a reduction in rates are, to say the least, poorly informed on tricks of the trade."

A WARNING TO MANY

Some Interesting Facts Regarding Health Statistics

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1909, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and they will gladly forward it to you absolutely free, by mail.

Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.

ANOTHER BIG CELEBRATION AT HAND

Next Wednesday, 17th Annual Celebration—Finest Program on Record

Sixteen years ago the people of Campbell conceived the idea of a celebration to be called "Old Settlers' Day" and since that time it has been an annual event on the 22nd of February.

The program this year is one of unusual merit and will attract many from distant places. The speaker of the morning session will be Professor Edward Benjamin Krehbiel of Stanford University. Professor Krehbiel is giving, jointly with Dr. Jordan, a course of lectures on "Peace" at the University this semester, and is authority on modern European national questions, civic and social. He has been accorded high praise at Berkeley, San Francisco and Palo Alto for addresses on civic topics, and a great treat may be expected from him.

The speakers for the afternoon will be Hon. P. F. Gosbey of San Jose, and our esteemed townsman, Joseph Bohnett. These two are too well known to need comment, and their large number of friends will be delighted to know that they have a part on the program.

The music is of a large variety and exceptionally good. The Campbell band will be out and will do much to put good spirit and enthusiasm into the events of the day.

The Lyric Quartet is composed of four of the best male voices of San Jose.

At twelve o'clock a basket lunch will be enjoyed. Coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished free.

The Peninsular Railway Company will run cars from San Jose every half hour from 9 to 1 o'clock. Round trip holiday rate tickets can be secured.

Handsome Trophies Offered for Pacific Coast Interscholastic Meet

With the desire to encourage track athletics in the high schools of the state, the Big "C" Society of the University of California has raised funds with which to purchase several handsome trophy cups, to be awarded at the first Pacific Coast Interscholastic Meet, held on April 28 and 29. This meet promises to be the most important event in high school athletic circles on the coast. Over two hundred high schools have been invited to enter teams. A number have already accepted. Each school will be limited to fifteen representatives, so as to give the smaller schools an equal chance with the larger ones.

One of the features of the meet will be a silver cup awarded each year to the individual athlete making the greatest number of points. This will become the property of the winner. It will be given each year by the Big "C" Society. The high school winning the meet will capture a perpetual challenge cup, awarded by the associated students of the University. There will also be a trophy for the winning relay team. A novel feature, however, will be a set of individual record cups, one for each event. At the first meet, the winners of the different events will take these cups, which they will hold until better records than theirs are made.

The Big "C" Society has arranged to have the fraternities and house clubs entertain the visiting athletes during their stay at Berkeley. It is the plan of the students to make the visit to the campus as enjoyable as possible to the visiting teams.

The Home Dining Room will serve dinner on the 22nd. Places reserved. Send in your orders at once.

Summer School

The attention of teachers is directed to the unusual opportunities that the University of California will offer for vacation study at its next summer session, June the twenty-sixth to August the fourth. In connection with the coming of the National Education Association to San Francisco, the authorities are planning the most noteworthy program of courses that has ever been offered. As the fare from San Francisco to Berkeley is but ten cents, teachers will find it easy to attend the meetings of the National Education Association and also enroll in the Summer School at Berkeley.

Among the representatives from other institutions who have accepted invitations to lecture in the coming Summer Session are the following:— Mr. Arthur Foote of Boston in Music, Professor Cassius Keyser of Columbia University in Mathematics, Dr. George Santayana of Harvard University in Philosophy, Professor Paul Ziertmann, Exchange Professor at Yale University in German, Professor Duncan Spaeth of Princeton University in English, Professor Albert M. Kales of the Northwestern University in Law, Miss Marie Ruef Hofer of New York City in Playground Work, Professor Fred L. Campbell of Toledo, Ohio, in Home Economics, Professor A. C. Whitaker of Stanford University in Economics, Miss May Gearhart, Supervisor of Drawing, of Los Angeles in Drawing, Dr. Everett C. Beach, Director of Physical Education, of Los Angeles in Physical Education.

Courses will be offered in the following subjects, in many of which upper-division and graduate credit may be secured. In music and physical education, a sequence of courses has been arranged by which students may do consecutive work through several summer sessions:— Philosophy 4. Education 5. Law 4. History 5.
